

King County Iris Society

Membership Application Form

Encompassing the Greater Seattle/Metro area, the King County Iris Society is a group of active gardeners growing many kinds of irises. We are affiliated with the American Iris Society (see <http://www.irises.org>) and have great flower shows and plant sales. If you like to grow irises and want to learn more about them and meet other iris fans, we invite you to join us. For more information, feel free to contact us using our on-line contact form, visit our website (www.kcis.org) or join us at one of our meetings. Our regular meetings are held September thru April, at 7:00pm at: The Center for Urban Horticulture, University of Washington, 3501 NE 41st St, Seattle. Meetings are on the first Monday of the month, or the second Monday if the first is a holiday. Visitors are welcome!

One of the main purposes of KCIS is to educate the public about irises (www.kcis.org). Our membership consists of novices, experts, commercial growers, and hybridizers. Our meetings are relaxed and fun. Programs vary, including notable speakers, slides of recent irises, judges' training sessions, interesting garden updates or activities. Regular meetings include a short business meeting, refreshments, and door prizes usually of irises, iris items and/or other garden goodies.

Our yearly schedule includes a May iris show, August bearded Iris sale, and a September beardless Iris sale. We all have a good time at the work parties preceding the sales and at the holiday party in December.

All of the mentioned events, plus cultural tips, are covered in our fine monthly newsletter. King County Iris Society membership includes a subscription to the semiannual newsletter of AIS Region 13, the local tri-state affiliate of the American Iris Society. A large number of the club's members are also American Iris Society members and enjoy various Regional Conventions as well as AIS National Conventions and the quarterly national publication, the AIS Bulletin.
